HIJACKER’S HARRIANG ESCAPE MAY BECOME MOVIE

Successful plot to loot Communist Hungary has all elements of blockbuster script, editor says.

No one knows for sure what happened. ‘No one can say for sure what happened, because it was a secret operation,” New York Times writer Seth Green said.

The story of Frank Iszak’s escape from prison to hijack a plane is one of the most remarkable tales from Cold War history. It was so secret, it was never written about in the American press.

But now, “The Hijack Thesis” is being made into a major motion picture, with plans to shoot in San Diego in June.

“I love the story,” said Seth Green, a professor of negotiation and conflict management at Harvard University and a writer for The New York Times. “It’s an amazing story.”

The story is so unique, it’s been described as the ultimate Cold War thriller.

So you can cut back on lawn and costly projects to boost storage. Metropolitan also looked for new sources of storage, such as ‘through-lining’ in groundwater basins and in Lake Mead, and other agencies tried to reduce demand by encouraging conservation.

In 2003, the water authority said it was ready to jump on a repeat. Both contended that lack of storage in their service area poses a serious threat to the region’s water security. Metropolitan Water Agency worked to prevent a repeat. Both agencies said they were concerned about the region’s water security.
